Emotionally Strong

Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. Philippians 4:6 (NIV)

May 4 —Term Two, Week Three

Adventist Health Week is fitting in so well with our term focus. Each day we are looking at Values for Wellbeing. Senior students are keeping journals to record their learning. Follow our school page on Facebook to see the focus for each day and chat with your children about the values.

Everyday is a blessing, and Fridays are an extra blessing. We love having our God Connection assembly in the afternoons. It's lovely to be singing again. It's also nice to have Mr Rea back with us and children playing guitars. Ruma Tui is currently doing Garden to Table and Ruma Kererū is enjoying art rotations with guitar, chimes and visual art.

It saddens us sometimes to hear language in the playground that has no place on Christian lips or in a Christian school. We wonder where children learn such things and can only look to ourselves as role models, and also to the influences of social media, movies, music and television where ungodly language is common place. I encourage you to monitor what your children are listening to and watching. It is insidious and we require all the support we can get to maintain an atmosphere that is consistent with our values.

Thank you for being so prompt with attendance dues payments and also with letting the office know when your children are absent or late. Much appreciated!
